

Create Jobs Today. Lower Energy Costs Tomorrow.

America's buildings need an upgrade. Building STAR would create up to 200,000 jobs for skilled American workers in the next 18 months by investing in commercial building retrofits that will cut energy waste and reduce utility bills for businesses and consumers for many years to come.

Building STAR is supported by a diverse group of more than 80 organizations representing businesses, workers and consumers. They urge Congress to pass the Building STAR package of energy-efficiency rebates now. Building STAR would go to work immediately to spur investment, create small business jobs, reduce energy costs and improve our environment.

to find out more go to www.RebuildingAmerica.org

